WHEN HOPE FINDS A HOME

October 2025

Dear Friends,

At San Diego's Ronald McDonald House, every meal, hug, and night of rest matters for families with a child in medical crisis. For too many years, being together wasn't always possible—there simply weren't enough rooms.

That changed this summer—the moment when we opened 28 new rooms and cut our waitlist in half. Thanks to early supporters of our Imagine the Moment Campaign, 82 families can now stay close when it matters most.

Now we look toward the moment when families not only find a place to rest, but also the strength to cope. With the creation of our Campaign's Family Support Services program, parents and siblings will have professional, on-site emotional and practical care under our roof—helping them stay resilient through their hardest days.

And we are building toward the moment when care is sustained for today and the future. Thanks to Ron and Alexis Fowler, we now have the extraordinary Fowler Family Challenge—a $6.25 million commitment, the largest in our history, which will match all new campaign gifts, bringing this vision to life while keeping programs free for families in need.

This Impact Report shares the many moments your generosity makes possible. Thank you for standing with families through your annual support, and for considering a new investment in the Imagine the Moment Campaign. Together, we can ensure every family finds comfort, strength, and hope when they need it most.

With Gratitude,

Eric Eastham
Chair, Board of Trustees 2023-2025

Zoey and mom Karina

TOGETHER WITH ZOEY

Zoey, 14, meets life's toughest challenges with courage and heart. A devoted big sister to two-year-old Khloe, she's also a talented Escaramuza equestrian—part of a traditional Mexican women's rodeo team performing intricate horseback routines. Yet behind her confidence and humor is a story shaped by challenges no child should face.

In 2022, while her mom, Karina, was six months pregnant and navigating a divorce, Zoey was diagnosed with B-cell Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. Their Palm Springs home was hours from Rady Children's Hospital. The family didn't know how they would manage—until the Ronald McDonald House opened its doors. "It gave us a little bit of peace, a little bit of normal when everything else felt like it was falling apart," Karina recalls.

Karina and younger daughter Khloe

After a year of treatment, Zoey rang the hospital bell in celebration, but two weeks later, she relapsed. Once again, the House provided a safe space where the whole family could stay together, giving them strength, comfort, and hope for the journey ahead.

"The House gives us strength, hope, and a sense of belonging when everything else feels uncertain."

– Karina Magallanes

This summer, Zoey underwent the new immunotherapy, CAR-T. Karina's sister joined them to help take care of Khloe while Karina was by Zoey's side.

The House remains their place of hope and togetherness—a home where their family can face life's hardest moments, supported and never alone.

the MOMENT

THE MOMENT WHEN... new guest suites make room for MORE FAMILIES

Families facing medical crises need a room right away—not weeks later. On July 1, 2025, hope became reality with the grand opening of 28 new guest suites at San Diego's Ronald McDonald House. Zoey cut the ribbon beside her mom and became the first to move in.

Made possible by early investors in the Imagine the Moment Campaign, these new suites have cut the waitlist for care in half and now give immediate relief to 28 more families who once waited anxiously for a room. They replace our former offices and play yard, which has been reimagined as Cooper's Corner (page 10). Our work continues as we explore ways to expand beyond our main site, so no family has to wait when every moment counts.

This milestone also marked the public launch of the Imagine the Moment Campaign (page 6), brought to life by the vision and generosity of our Trustees, Campaign Collective, lead donors, and construction partners.

KARINA MAGALLANES HAS A MESSAGE FOR DONORS:

"Thank you for believing in this mission and for making it possible for families like ours to focus on what matters most: being together, healing together, and staying strong for our children."

THE MOMENT WHEN... your support brings MORE MOMENTS FOR MORE FAMILIES

IMAGINE THE MOMENT...

Step inside our House.
Feel the deep relief of a parent finally finding rest.
See a child's worry melt with family close.

Since its launch in 2022, the $22 million Imagine the Moment Campaign has already brought 28 new rooms to families, thanks to early supporters.

Now, the campaign continues.
Family Support Services will make professional, holistic care a reality. We are securing support and hope for tomorrow's families.

Imagine the comfort.
Imagine the strength.
Imagine the moments we can create together.

Celebrating Our Campaign Collective

We thank these passionate philanthropists and volunteer leaders for their essential role in bringing the Imagine the Moment Campaign to life. Together, they are investing their time, resources, and voices to create new opportunities for families to stay close, find support, and share more moments that matter.

FOWLER FAMILY CHALLENGE

Ron and Alexis Fowler
lead with a $6.25 million challenge gift

A Message from Ron Fowler

When we first got involved with San Diego's Ronald McDonald House, it was clear the House needed to grow, and it's been remarkable to see its expansion come to life. But what truly moved us, and inspired us to make a deeper investment, is what's coming next: Family Support Services.

This new program will take the care families receive to another level. It fills a gap we saw so clearly.

During my time with families—many of whom came down to Padres games for a much-needed break—I could see the weight they carried, especially the mothers. The emotional and mental toll of having a seriously ill child, while juggling the needs of other children and holding a family together—it's unimaginable.

That's why Alexis and I have pledged $6.25 million as a challenge grant for the Ronald McDonald House Imagine the Moment campaign—helping to launch and sustain Family Support Services and other key priorities, and to inspire the community to join us in making it a reality.

We've already contributed the first $2 million to help jumpstart this effort. We want this program to move full speed ahead—not in three years, but in one. We're proud to be involved. We're lucky to be involved. And we'd be honored to match your gift to this excellent cause.

"Families Can't Wait— And Neither Should We."

A Legacy of Compassion and Leadership

Since 2011, Susan and Bill Hoehn have shaped the heart and future of San Diego's Ronald McDonald House through extraordinary generosity, board leadership, and hands-on care. From serving meals with the Hoehn Motors team to celebrating personal milestones at the House, they've brought warmth and compassion to families when it's needed most—keeping thousands close to their hospitalized children.

THE MOMENT WHEN... memories are made at COOPER'S CORNER

Some moments stay with you forever—first steps, first smile after surgery, first moment of carefree play. That's the magic of Cooper's Corner, a playful space dreamed up by TCWGlobal and its founder and CEO, Samer Khouli. Kids race along the trike track, climb the play structure, shoot hoops, and discover planter boxes inscribed with messages like "You are loved" in multiple languages.

At the grand opening, mom Julie Ann Lingat shared her gratitude as her twins became the first to try the slide—happy moments of play after long months of treatment for their rare immune disorder.

Since early 2023, TCWGlobal's generosity has brought families comfort and connection, a spirit of care that now finds a home in Cooper's Corner, named for the company's beloved mascot.

"I hope Cooper's Corner is more than just a playground. I hope it's infused with heart and soul—a place where children can find hope, love, and gratitude that is life-giving."

Yu Darvish and the Padres Foundation Provide a Big-League Boost for Families

New this summer at our House is the Padres Clubhouse, which brings the heart of Petco Park to our families. This one-of-a-kind space was made possible through the generosity of starting pitcher Yu Darvish and family and the San Diego Padres Foundation, part of the Peter Seidler Legacy Projects.

This new space builds on decades of Padres support—from funding the original Padres Playroom and supporting Red Shoe Day, to hosting unforgettable game-day experiences.

We are deeply grateful to the Darvish family and the Padres Foundation for helping make smiles, high-fives, and healing happen here.

"The Padres Clubhouse at Petco Park is considered our 'home away from home.' It's special to recreate that space for families staying at the Ronald McDonald House."

PROGRAM UPDATES

A Time of Growth and Impact

In 2024 and 2025, San Diego's Ronald McDonald House maintained its high level of service while achieving the expansion goals of our Imagine the Moment Campaign. During 12 months of major South Wing construction, the House stayed safe and fully operational. As of July 2025, 82 families are benefiting from a room of their own and shared spaces like Cooper's Corner and the Padres Clubhouse.

With the help of volunteers and community groups, our kitchen served 258,000 meals—the most in our history. Community groups delighted families through activities and performances throughout the year. Enhancements like the new Miyahira Family Courtyard, refreshed furnishings, and updated landscaping made the House even more welcoming.

We've also been preparing for the launch of Family Support Services (page 6). Guided by consultations with hospital and community partners and insights from UC-San Francisco researchers, this program will provide holistic emotional and practical support to caregivers, siblings, and staff—helping families stay close and resilient.

Individual and community philanthropy makes this sustained and expanding care possible, bringing deeper support to more families than ever before.

MEALS FROM THE HEART

Comfort and Nourishment Amid Uncertainty

Frida Ortiz and her husband, Juan Carlos Romero, are staying at San Diego's Ronald McDonald House with their two-year-old, Maximo, while baby Ruben is in the NICU. An early infection caused organ damage, and Ruben is now facing his seventh surgery.

"Before the Ronald McDonald House, I was anxious about where we would stay or eat. Being here has been amazing. I'm so grateful."

– Frida Ortiz

Shared meals give the young family moments of comfort and connection—and Maximo space to run and play—as they take turns at the hospital.

Teams from local McDonald's restaurants serve meals throughout the year.

Care and Connection Through Meal Service

Mealtimes give families a moment of relief during a child's hospital stay. Volunteers turn every plate into care, connection, and hope—while seeing the real impact of their teamwork.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Meet Steve Nauck — lifelong traveler, marathon runner, and one of the warmest volunteers you'll ever meet. He began volunteering at San Diego's Ronald McDonald House in 2017 after spotting a flyer for Red Shoe Day. Steve was moved to give back in honor of a dear friend who stayed at the New York Ronald McDonald House during her fight with cancer.

Steve makes his living as an international purser for United Airlines, spending nearly three decades managing cabin crews on long-haul flights to places like Taipei, Singapore, and Hong Kong. Yet no matter where his travels take him, he keeps his heart close to home—dedicating his time and energy to families right here in San Diego.

Front Desk Volunteers Needed

Front Desk volunteers are the first hello for families and visitors, greeting people as they arrive, giving tours, answering phones, accepting deliveries, assisting with data entry and mailings, and helping keep the Great Room welcoming.

"If you can make even one person smile, you've done your job. A smile is the first step on the long road to healing."

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW

Thanks to the continued generosity of our supporters, our organization's financial strength has grown steadily over the past decade. In 2024, we reported $16.3 million in revenue and $10.1 million in expenses, resulting in net income of $6.2 million. Of that, $5.3 million was designated for Imagine the Moment Campaign priorities, including the expansion of our House, enhanced family support services, and a stronger endowment.

This continued growth brought us to $32.0 million in unrestricted net assets and $50.1 million in total net assets, ensuring we are well-positioned to serve more families in the years ahead. Strengthening our endowment remains a critical priority, and we've grown our donor and board-designated endowment funds to $10.4 million—helping to secure our mission for the long term. To view our full audited financial statements, please visit rmhcsd.org/financial-information.

RAFFLE SUPPORT

At San Diego's Ronald McDonald House, a raffle ticket is more than a chance to win—it's a powerful way to give back. Together, the San Diego Giving Back Raffle and the Hoehn Motors Luxury Car Raffle have become signature traditions in our community—transforming the excitement of winning into life-changing support for families in need.

In 2024 alone, more than 15,000 participants raised over $2.5 million for our House, ensuring families never have to face their child's medical crisis alone. We anticipate similar results in 2025.

A Winner's Perspective

One of our prize winners, Karen F., reflected on her own experience as a parent when she brought her grandsons to see all that raffle tickets support at our House:

"When one of my children was diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy, I often felt overwhelmed. Supporting the Ronald McDonald House through the raffle is deeply personal."
